Police Chaplain Training

Special 3 in1 Seminar!

Instructor

Tim Rupp retired from the San Antonio (TX) Police Department and served eleven years with the Bonneville County (ID) Sheriff's Office as a reserve deputy. Tim is an ordained minister and serves as a pastor and law enforcement chaplain in SE Idaho. He holds a Master of Science in Criminal Justice, Master of Divinity, Master of Arts in Christian Education, and a Doctor of Ministry. Tim has authored several books; including Winning a Gunfight, Suicide is Not an Option, and Moral Injury in Policing.

Chaplains are called to minister to the spiritual needs of warriors. To be effective, members of the clergy need to understand the dynamics of using lethal force, why warriors opt for suicide, and how to avoid and heal from moral injury.

In this special training, Tim will overview three seminars he designed for law enforcement officers. In the Winning a Gunfight seminar, Tim draws from personal and professional experiences as he takes you through what officers face in a gunfight to help you prepare officers to win spiritually. The Suicide is Not an Option seminar details why many choose suicide and how to give hope to those contemplating suicide. Finally, the Moral Injury in Policing seminar teaches officers to be spiritually vigilant to both protect themselves from and heal from moral injury.

Each student receives a copy of one of Tim's books.

Target Audience: Police and military chaplains, peer support officers, and clergy who minister to law enforcement officers or combat veterans.
